

M.S. in Curriculum and Instruction with Reading Specialist Certification

A Master of Science in Curriculum and Instruction with a Specialization in Reading and Reading Specialist Certification will prepare candidates to serve as curriculum specialists in school districts, improve literacy skills of students and adults, and provide multiple career opportunities in the field of education.

WHY UHCL?

- 36 Hour Program
- Traditional, online and hybrid courses
- Student-centered courses
- Rated Best Regional University and Best Value in 2018 and 2019 in U.S. News & World Report
- Financial aid available

DEGREE PLANS

M.S. Curriculum and Instruction with Reading Specialist Certification

POSSIBLE CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

- Curriculum Specialist
- Literacy Coach
- Literacy Specialist
- Curriculum Director
- Literacy Director
- Program Specialist
- Instructional Coach
- Adjunct Instructor (undergraduate students)
- Community College Instructor

For questions or more information,
contact:

Kent Divoll Ed.D
Program Coordinator
Teacher Education
Divoll@uhcl.edu

281-283-3634

OR

Roberta D.
Raymond, Ed.D
Program Coordinator
Literacy, Language Arts, and Literature Studies
raymond@uhcl.edu

281-283-3593